TABLE I

CROSS REFERENCE TABLE

FROM

C. L. 1857 to C.L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the corresponding sections of the Compiled Laws of 1857 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.

CROSS REFERENCE TABLE

FROM

C. L. 1871 to C. L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the corresponding sections of the Compiled Laws of 1871 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.

CROSS REFERENCE TABLE

How. (1882, 1890) to C. L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the corresponding sections of the two volumes of Howell's Annotated Statutes of 1882 and the supplemental third volume published in 1890 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.

FROM

C. L. 1897 to C. L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the corresponding sections of the Compiled Laws of 1897 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.

CROSS REFERENCE TABLE

FROM

C. L. 1915 to C. L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the corresponding sections of the Compiled Laws of 1915 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.

CROSS REFERENCE TABLE

FROM

C. L. 1929 to C. L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the corresponding sections of the Compiled Laws of 1929 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.

CROSS REFERENCE TABLE
Public Acts Through 1948 to C. L. 1948

This table reproduced from Volume 4 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 indicates where the Public Acts of 1948 were found or accounted for in the Compiled Laws of 1948. No attempt has been made to update the table to apply to the 1970 compilation.

In preparing the Table for the 1948 compilation, the compilers provided that the letter "n" at the right or left of a section in the second column indicated that the disposition of the act or section in the first column was accounted for in a note following or immediately preceding the section in the second column. The letter "r" at the right of a section indicated that such section expressly repealed the section in the first column. The letter "v" at the right of a section indicated that a reference was made in the text of such section to the section in the first column.

Blanks indicated that the act or section in question was temporary, obsolete, local, repealed, superseded or declared unconstitutional and had not been reenacted in whole or in part nor referred to in the historical notes at the time the Compiled Laws of 1948 was published.
